

Getting Green to Go Green

TN Green Building Summit, Nashville TN
September 22, 2009

The 2009 Tennessee Green Building Summit will be held September 22, 2009 at the Marriott, in Nashville TN. The objective of the ESC Annual Summit is to provide an opportunity to cities, counties, K-12, Higher Education, state agencies and a wide variety of stakeholders to participate in informative sessions on green building energy-related topics.

Why Should You Attend?

Learn what performance contracting is, how it can help your business make improvements and where to find funds to offset the costs of becoming energy efficient or "green". In other words, get the green to go green... then save some green!

Practical Advice

Find out what government leaders and industry experts think "green" really is—from money in your pocket to improvements in your building. Talk to representatives from TVA about a program designed with your business in mind, "Commercial Efficiency Advice and Incentives."

Getting Green to Go Green

Hear from national, state and local officials on the latest funds available to help your business improve the bottom line. Participate in interactive discussions with industry experts and other attendees on alternative ways to fund projects... that may not affect your capital budget!

Where?
